

practices, 944–45; and Shiite Islam, 575; and Sunni Islam, 806, 893n7; and U.S. Foreign Policy in Mideast, 935–36; in U.S. Muslim population, 223–24; Womanist movement, 244; women, 29

afterlife, 16–18, 279; and death, 177; and Mu'tazites, 22; and suicide, 615

Aga Khan III, 18

Aga Khan IV, 18–20, 141, 195, 893n7; imam of Isma'ili Muslims, 348; as imam of Isma'ili Muslims, 596; positions on social issues, 349, 349–50

Agha Khan Development Network (AKDN), 349

Agha Khan Foundation USA, 349–50

Agha Khan Program in Architecture, 829

Ahmad, Ghulam, 28, 30, 177

Ahmadiyya missionaries to England, 13, 29

Ahmadiyya Movement, 13–14, 28–30

Ahmed, Leila, 59, 282, 628

AIDS, 31–33, 37–38, 219, 411

Ajami, Fouad, 520

Alalwani, Taha Jabir Fayyed, 47–48; challenges to religious assumptions, 181; Cordoba University Graduate School of Islamic and Social Sciences (GSISS), 207, 286; and dar al-harb/dar al-Islam dichotomy, 172, 361; fatwa, Muslims as US military personnel, 824–27; "Fatwa' Concerning the United States Supreme Court Frieze", 706–23; fatwa on embryonic stem cell research, 666–68; Fiqh Council of North America, 255; "Fiqh of Minorities" (fique al-aqaliyya), 701; "Fiqh of Minorities" School, 554, 650; International Institute of Islamic Thought (IIIT), 35; "Islamic" vs. "un-Islamic" societies, 361, 362; and jihad, 361; Muslim community and Western law, 193, 375–76, 387; Muslim community and western political structures, 375–76, 448–49; Muslims as religious minorities, 375–76; Muslims as US military personnel, 242; and pluralism, 362; and Western interpretation of Islam, 331

Alam, Faisal, 36, 572, 596, 1005

Al Azhar University, Egypt, 25, 675

Albania, 25, 103

Albanian Islamic Center of Detroit, 243

alcohol, 48–50, 216; dietary rules proscribing, 187; "Islam and alcohol in America", 764–66; and Islam in America, 216, 595, 613; proscription of in post-soviet invasion Afghanistan, 8; and religious self-understanding among US Muslims, 386

al-Faruqi, Ismail, 34–36; Association of Muslim Social Scientists, 96; and da'wa, 176; experience of emigration, 289; on hijra in U.S. context, 380; and interfaith dialogue, 176, 314, 317; International Institute of Islamic Thought (IIIT), 71, 286; Islamic vocabulary and English, 380; and Muslim immigration, 375; as public intellectual, 520, 589

Al-Fatiha, 572; and AIDS, 36–38; fatwa against, 1007; in Houston, 36

al-Hibri, Azizah: on divorce, 194; on fiqh, 246; gender issues, 246; and ideas about democracy, 181; KARAMA, 248; marriage, 686, 687; polygamy, 398, 686; relations between Muslims, non-Muslims, 367; on women's rights, 194, 246

Ali, Kecia, 246, 515

Ali, Noble Drew, 52–53; in Chicago, 132–33; creation of African American Muslim identity, 13; and Moorish Science Temple, 422–23, 471, 587; and Moorish Science Temple of America (MSTA), 13

Alkhateeb, Sharifa, 57, 481

Allah/God, 54–55; Christian evangelical distinction, 54; depiction of, 63

All Dulles Area Muslim Society (ADAMS), 398, 639

Allied Muslim Youth of North America (AMYNA), 639, 641

al-Marayati, Salam, 75–76, 416, 452

al Qaeda, 38–40; in Afghanistan, 9; al-Zawahiri, 534; and American Muslim community, 612, 877; and bin Laden, Osama, 37–39; condemnations by Muslims in America, 816–23, 843; and Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR), 167, 264; definition of infidel (takfir), 374; external vs. internal threats to U.S., 616–17; and Global Relief Foundation, 167, 264; and Global Relief Foundation (GRF), 264; goal of new caliphate, 117; and Guantánamo Bay, 269–70; and Hizb al-Tharir, 117; ideology of, 38–39; and jihad, 321, 362; and John Walker Lind, 843–49; leadership of, 362; Murad Kalam's reflections on, 780; and Operation Enduring Freedom, 9; and Osama bin Laden, 103, 417, 441; possible U.S. links, 185, 264; and recruitment, 321; and Saudi Arabian discontent, 555; and September 11, 2001, 564–67, 613; and the Taliban, 611, 612; U.S. and funding sources, 131; and "War on Terror",